PORTLAND 2010

Vendors from throughout the ecoroof industry are invited to convene and promote their products and services at ECOROOOF Portland 2010. The two-day event will offer expanded programming from 2009, including a commercial emphasis, guest speakers, technical workshops, and project tours. The intent is to provide the building design and development community, homeowners and building owners, and non-profit organizations information and technical assistance about ecoroofs.

ECOROOOF Portland 2010 will include an emphasis on commercial and residential property. Vendors are expected to promote their ecoroof-specific products and services as they pertain to design, development, construction, research and promotion of this building practice.
